

'CHALK' ALTMAN IS CHARGED WITH MURDER OF RACE DRIVER'S DEATH

FOLLOWING indictment of "Chalk" Altmann, of El Paso, in Las Cruces, N.M., Tuesday by the Dona Ana county grand jury on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the shooting of John T. Hutchins, race car driver, on November 4, 1919, O. A. Akerly, attorney general of New Mexico, and A. B. Randolph, special prosecutor, have come to El Paso with physicians to ascertain the state of health of Max F. W. Scamland, who was indicted with Altmann on a similar charge.

Scamland, who was arrested November 2, the day following the shooting of Hutchins, and held in the Dona Ana county jail pending preliminary hearing at Fort Bliss, he says, according to attorney general Akerly, that he is not well enough to go to trial. The army officer was examined while fighting with the American forces in Montenegro during the war. After his preliminary hearing at Las Cruces, where he was bound over to the grand jury on a first degree murder charge, Scamland protested against being confined in the county jail. He said his health was impaired.

Returned to Base Hospital.

At the request of the officer's attorney, Max F. W. Scamland, and his son, M. C. Scamland, Jr., physicians examined Scamland and recommended that he be transferred from Dona Ana county jail, District Judge E. D. Mechem ordered Scamland removed to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe on November 17. On November 19, Max Scamland was allowed to make his home in the sum of $12,000 to be paid in the sum of $1,000 per month.

LEVISTON WOMAN'S NOW WELL AND HAPPY

Mrs. Alice McCluskey Says She Wishes She Had Heard of Tanlac Twenty Years Ago—Would Have Saved Her Lots of Suffering.

"I have been trying for twenty long years to find a medicine that would overcome my troubles, but my efforts failed me completely until I commenced taking Tanlac," was the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Alice McCluskey, residing at No. 16 Park Street, Leviston, Mo., a well-known and most highly respected woman of that city.

"I just feel like I would give the world to meet everyone who suffers as I did and tell them about this medicine. If I could only have gotten Tanlac twenty years ago I would have saved me a lot of suffering and sorrow."

My principal trouble was indigestion, and for many years I could not eat meat or pastry for I would always have a distressed feeling after eating and nothing seemed to agree with me. Then, to add to the rest of my suffering, I contracted rheumatism in my shoulders and hips and the awful pains I suffered can never be told in words. This trouble finally got so bad I could hardly walk and my arms pained me so I could scarcely raise my hand to my head. I even had to give up my housework and was hardly able to get around at all.

"You can imagine how happy I was when, after taking only a few bottles of Tanlac, I found such a wonderful improvement in my condition. Why, it was just the medicine I needed all the time and I continued taking it until now I am perfectly well again. I can truthfully say that I am enjoying as good health now as I ever had in all my life. I have gained about 24 pounds in weight and can again do all my housework without the least trouble. I don't get tired like I did and after doing my work I can get out and walk for blocks and feel just fine when I get back home. Tanlac has saved me a woman who suffers as I did to take Tanlac."

El Paso Trade Boosters Will Push Selling

El Paso's trade trip this spring, whether it be to New Mexico and Arizona, or to the southwest and Mexico, is to be known as an El Paso sales effort and not as a trade excursion.

At a meeting of the jobbers of the city at the chamber of commerce Tuesday night, this distinction was emphasized, and El Paso's trade boosters, with the aid of John Hegan, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, have started work on plans for the trip. It was the sentiment of the jobbers who attended the meeting that the logical territory for El Paso to cultivate is the west coast of Mexico.

GERARD LAUDS BRYANISM

St. Louis, Mo., March 2.—James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and minority Democratic candidate for nomination for president in the state primary, March 21, met here in joint debate last night with James O. Monroe, Independent Democratic candidate for nomination for president from Illinois. Answering an inference that he was a "talker" for president, Gerard said, "I am a talker for anybody," and that the president, "who for eight years has made no talking, has made the greatest military power in the world, made no talking, has made the greatest military power in the world."

Mr. Gerard declared that war would have been prevented if William Jennings Bryan's peace treaty had been signed by the various countries.

"We must permit free speech," the former ambassador declared. "If people are not given the right to express their ideas through the ballot they will do it with bullets. Long ago we expressed regret that the railroads had been returned to private ownership, saying that government ownership would be a longer trial under normal peace time conditions."

The meeting had little appearance of a joint debate. Outlines of the issues were given by each speaker. A new taxation system was favored by Monroe. He was against the league of nations and argued the suppression of the great capital of the world. He was against the league of nations and argued the suppression of the great capital of the world.
